Holistic Growth Solutions LTD

Last updated: 14 October 2026

Holistic Growth Solutions LTD respects your privacy and is committed to handling your personal information responsibly.

Information We Collect

When you contact us or register your interest in the Build It Properly programme, we may collect your name, email address, country, optional telephone number, business stage and any information you choose to share.

How We Use Your Information

We use your information to:

- Respond to your enquiries.
- Provide information about our services or the Build It Properly programme when requested.
- Communicate with you regarding your expressed interest.
- Maintain appropriate business records.

We do not sell your personal information or use your enquiry details for unrelated marketing without the appropriate permission.

Legal Basis

We process personal information where necessary to respond to your requests, take steps towards providing services, meet legal obligations or pursue legitimate business interests, as permitted under UK data protection law.

Storage and Third-Party Services

We take reasonable measures to protect personal information. We may use trusted service providers, including Jotform for enquiry forms, to process information on our behalf. Where information is processed outside the UK, appropriate data protection safeguards will be considered.

How Long We Keep Information

We retain personal information only for as long as reasonably necessary for the purpose for which it was collected, or where legal obligations require longer retention.

Your Rights

Under applicable UK data protection law, you may have rights to access, correct, delete, restrict or object to certain uses of your personal information.

You may also raise concerns with the UK Information Commissioner's Office (ICO).
